Leeser Claims Fraud.

Says He Holds Judgment Against Morris

Who Transferred Property to Children.

Miles H. Morris, Frank W. Morris, Horace N. Morris, Minnie M. Baxendale and Nettie O. Gostlin are the defendants in an action commenced in Common Pleas court Monday afternoon by T. Jefferson Leeser. The plaintiff alleges that he holds a judgment against Miles H. Morris for $48.34. At the time it was given him Morris had an unassigned dower interest in the property of his wife, now deceased. It is alleged that Morris transferred this interest to the other defendants, who are his children, without any consideration, for the purpose of cheating and defrauding his creditors. The children, it is alleged, are about to transfer the property to a third party. He asked that they be restrained from doing so and that the transfer made by Morris to them be set aside. A temporary injunction was allowed.

Divorced.
Emma A. Tupper was granted a divorce on the grounds of wilful absence. The defendant, Harry Tupper, did not contest the case. The custody of the child was given to the plaintiff.

Maggie Shott's divorce was granted on the grounds of gross neglect on the part of her husband, Alfred Shott. She was restored to her maiden name of Blackson.

Peter Buehl's Will.
The will of the late Peter Buehl has been filed. He gives to his wife, Mary Ann Buehl, a life interest in two farms. After her death the real estate and personal property is to be divided, share and share alike, between his seven children.

Calendar Entries.
J. Ben Cammell, receiver of the J. C. McNeil Boiler company, has been ordered to pay creditors a 10 per cent dividend.

The defendant's demurrer in the libel case of Albert B. Smith vs. the Hallet & Davis Piano Co., has been overruled.

Slabaugh & Seiberling, attorneys for the plaintiff in the case of Hulda vs. Francis Buckingham et al., have been allowed $40 fees.

ENTHUSIASTIC

Meeting Marked the Close of the Campaign.

Hon. L. M. Fox Made an Able Address to a Large Audience.

One of the ablest campaign addresses ever delivered in Akron was that of Hon. L. M. Fox, of Sioux City, South Dakota, at Assembly hall Monday night.

A large audience was present and with but one or two instances too trivial for serious notice, every person present listened to every word with an attention indicative of their comprehending the ability of the speaker and the sincerity and fairness with which he handled the great question now before the American people.

Mr. Fox talked principally upon the Administration's policy in the Philippines. He has traveled through that country and is thoroughly conversant with its conditions and customs of the people. Consequently, his address from beginning to end was filled with indisputable facts in condemnation of the present imperialistic policy.

Hon. S. G. Rogers was chairman of the meeting. He delivered an eloquent preliminary address.

NOT TRUE

That Wages Have Been Reduced, Says An Official.

"The story circulated today that the Northern Ohio Electric company had reduced the wages of some of the employees at the power house $5 a month and that the Street Car Employees' Union to which the men belonged declared that the men would be called out unless the former wage scale was retained, is not correct. It is news to us," said an official of the company this afternoon.

Dr. Gies, chiropodist, of Youngstown, is at the Hotel Buchtel for two days. Call or telephone him.

HERO Of the Young Lawyers' Republican Club

Closed the Campaign in a Blaze of Glory at Democratic Meeting.

"The Blackstonian whinok of the Young Lawyers' Republican Club." Thus whispered a number of people as Nation O. Mather, Esq., followed by a young woman, and the cat-calls and hisses of a disgusted crowd, walked a gauntlet of disgruntled citizens in his violent exodus from Assembly hall Monday night.

But with all the vain dignity of a young turkey gobbler strutting about two days before Thanksgiving, Mr. Mather, attorney-at-law, continued on, and no doubt upon reaching the pavement remarked peevishly to the blushing young lady, who, while passing from the hall, plainly exhibited a woman's delicate sense of humiliation at being placed in a circumstance obliging her to follow an asinine character who poses as a man: "Weally, now, they do not appear to comprehend my dignity. They do not seem to realize that I am a member of the Young Lawyers' Republican club, and a Republican, who has shouted in the interests of Mista Hannah. It is ridiculous."

Mr. Mather was at the Democratic mass meeting Monday night. He was not there by special invitation. A carriage had not been sent for him. He did not assist in paying the hall rent. When he was first noticed in the hall it was presumed that he was there as a well-mannered citizen — with intelligence and courtesy enough to hear both sides of a question, and to permit others to do the same.

But, imbued with that insane idea which infests some venturists in the same aggravated measure that a flea does a pug dog, Mr. Mather imagined himself to be the whole show. "It is I whom this people have come to see," he no doubt soliloquized; and then threw his head back and thrust his thumbs in the arm holes of his vest with an air indicative of there being centralized in him all the dignity of the Republican party, with Hanna and the trusts on the side, and a little more of the white meat, please, not far away.

On several occasions Mr. Mather endeavored himself to himself by yelling "Bravo!" when the speaker would be interrupted with a question and then he would look wise and laugh a little at his sagacity.

Finally something was said that didn't please Mr. Nation O. Mather, attorney-at-law, member of the Young Lawyers' Republican club and he asked Mr. Fox a question. It was answered in a courteous manner, with compassion upon its being a stranger to the subject.

Then Mr. Mather jumped about four feet into the air and exclaimed as he was making the descent, "Good-bye!"

He then started for the door, no doubt expecting the crowd to follow. But it didn't. Some hissed, others jeered and the rest just smiled a compassionate smile as they thought of the extreme freshness of youth and the year of the short oats.

Take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for all those dangerous affections—severe colds, pleurisy and grippe—which fall and winter brings along. It is the greatest cure for bronchitis and all throat and lung affections.

An Election In Past Sixty-Two Years.

Remarkable Record of H. J. Spicer--Walked to Voting Booth.

One of the earliest voters in precinct C of the Fourth ward, was H. J. Spicer.

His record, it is safe to say, is not equaled in the state. Mr. Spicer resides on Spicer street at the corner of Carroll st. He is the oldest voter, in the point of years' residence, in this city.

He has not missed voting at an election in the last 62 years. During all that time he has resided at the same place. He is 83 years of age. Despite his extreme age, Mr. Spicer walked to the polls and cast his ballot.
